Senior Play Is Tonight

By Owen Greenan

This evening at 8:00 p.m. at Sunset School Auditorium the Class of 1948 will present the Annual Carmel High School Senior Play, Pride and Prejudice. Early in February keen competition for parts began, which turned up an exceptional amount of fine talent. Mrs. Mariquita Brey, high school English teacher and the person who was largely responsible for reviving the Senior Play tradition at Carmel High last year, has again done a perfect job of casting. A more complete note has been added to this year's production, since the high school orchestra, under the direction of John Farr, will play the overture and the entrance music.

The highly amusing plot might be summed up as the complication that arises when an over-anxious mother tries desperately to marry off her five daughters at the same time.

Following is the cast: Jane Bennet, Betty Plaxton; Lydia Bennet, Carol Hildebrand; Kitty Bennet, Beverly Dowgiallo; Mary Bennet, Sunny Cook; Mrs. Bennet, Judith Campbell; Mr. Bennet, Wynn Hutchings; Elizabeth Bennet, Colleen Dolan; Hill, Edith Barbie; Lady Lucas, Ursula Bartlett; Charlotte Lucas, Wanda Warren; Mr. Bigley, Mike Monahan; Miss Bengley, Elizabeth Klein; Mr. Darcy, Paul Warner; Mr. Wickham, Phil Wettengel; Mr. Collins, Bazil Allaire; Lady Catherine de Bourgh, Eleanor Bannerman.

Wednesday evening I was one of the few persons allowed to be present at the dress rehearsal. The situation the players found themselves in Wednesday night was comparable to what will happen tonight.

The direction staff had suggested that the players show up at least half an hour before show time in order that there would be no rush in putting on costumes. The nervous tension that grips the seniors is apparent, for almost all the cast arrives a full hour before curtain time. Back stage is a sea of activity as the boys don their handsome costumes and grudgingly submit to being made up by the girls who seem more adept at applying make-up than any of the male players. The prop men appear more nervous than the cast as they rearrange pictures, straighten chairs and place fresh flowers on the painstakingly constructed early nineteenth-century set. Suddenly a voice rings out, "Two minutes till curtain time, places." Following this call there is a mad scramble with teachers, prompters, prop men and players all dashing to different places at the same time. Then there is a pause, a last minute briefing of opening lines, a tense silence, and the curtain parts.

Don't forget, 8:00 o'clock tonight, Friday, April 30, Sunset School Auditorium, the Senior Class production of Pride and Prejudice. Tickets are 75 cents per person and there are no reserved seats.

Carmel American In Best Sense, Says Langston Hughes, Here On Visit

By John Upton

"Carmel is one of the most American of communities, in the best sense of the word," said Langston Hughes in an interview Tuesday afternoon at Noel Sullivan's Hollow Hills Farm. Here, he feels, he has done some of his best work, in an atmosphere free from discrimination, and where the artist is judged by his work alone.

Mr. Hughes, poet, playwright, novelist, lecturer, world traveler and translator, and an amiable and soft-spoken conversationalist, is spending a few days in Carmel Valley prior to filling the last date of his coast-to-coast lecture tour at the Jones Methodist Church in San Francisco. In the company of a pot of tea and four daschunds, the talk ranged from the Spanish poet Garcia Lorca, whose work he has translated, to Bessie Smith, lusty blues singer of the twenties, whom he met in Paris. His work is equally broad: between intervals of writing poetry, he finds time to contribute a weekly column to the Chicago Defender.

To date, Mr. Hughes has completed six cross-country tours, besides appearing during the war at many army camps to give readings of his poetry. He has traveled widely abroad, having journeyed through Europe, the Caribbean, Russia, and the Orient.

"In fact, South America is about the only continent I haven't visited," he said, "and I hope to see that soon — particularly Buenos Aires, where my play Mulatto is being done right now." Several of his works have been translated into Italian and French, among them his autobiography, The Big Sea.

At present he is busy with two books. In collaboration with Arna Bontemps, author of The Story of the Negro, he is preparing an anthology of modern American Negro poetry, to include work by American and Caribbean poets, and by white poets who are concerned with Negro themes. The other is a volume of verse, to be called One-Way Ticket, which is due to appear in the fall. The illustrations are being done by Jacob Lawrence.

In addition to several volumes of verse, a novel, short stories, and an autobiography, The Big Sea, written in Carmel in 1934-35, Mr. Hughes has done the lyrics to the musical version of Elmer Rice's Street Scene, which had a six-months' run in New York, and which will probably be taken on tour soon.

Mr. Hughes said in conclusion, "I believe, with Anatole France that the function of the serious artist is to depict his personal facet of the wheel of truth—a wheel with many spokes."

Planning Board Refuses Permit For M. R. Theatre

A month-old, hotly-contested issue was brought to a close on Monday, when the County Planning Commission at a meeting in Salinas denied Mrs. Marcella Cisney's plea for permission to establish a summer theatre at the Mission Ranch.

The Commission heard Stanley Pedder and Dr. L. A. Van Meter, representing the standing committee on zoning of Carmel Unincorporated; Herbert Heron of the Carmel Planning Commission; and Mr. and Mrs. Cisney. A letter from the Local Advisory Board, headed by Corum Jackson, was read. The board recommended denial of the application.

Mr. and Mrs. Cisney said that the proposed group would be a worth-while addition to Carmel community activities, since they planned a series of performances with well-known professional and Hollywood talent. The banquet hall, which is now used for private parties and club meetings, would be only a temporary location for the project, said Mrs. Cisney, until a permanent theatre could be built.

Mr. Pedder pointed out that the question hinges upon the non-conforming use limitation as applied to the Mission Ranch property, and Mrs. Cisney's petition is in conflict with Carmel Unincorporated's established policy of opposing any extension of the use or change of zoning in that area. He also declared that the location would be an unsuitable one, because of the necessary increase in traffic in the area, and emphasized that the zoning committee was not concerned with the question of rival dramatic groups nor with the financial responsibility of Mrs. Cisney, but solely with the annoyance to the residents of the area.

Commissioner Don Colgrove moved that the petition be denied by the Commission, and it was so ordered by an unanimous vote.

Mrs. Cisney thanked the Commission for its time and consideration, stating that she felt the matter had been treated in a very fair manner.

Mike Balazs New Chairman For Scholarship Board

Dr. K. Fillmore Gray of the Church of the Wayfarer was appointed to fill the place of the late Clara Kellogg at the annual meeting of the board of trustees of the O. W. Bardarson Scholarship Fund held on Monday at Sunset School. Michael Balazs was appointed chairman.

A committee of three was appointed to make recommendations regarding the selection of a graduating high school student to be assisted from the fund this year. The committee is to report at the next meeting, an informal one, the date for which has not been set.

Of the 16 members, 10 were in attendance: Mrs. Charlotte Clark, Peter Ferrante, Arthur Hull, the Rev. Alfred Seccombe, Stuart Mitchell, Michael Balazs, Mrs. Florinda Holm, Mrs. Helen Levinson, Mrs. Vera Millis, and Peter Mawdsley.

SUNSET FESTIVITIES POSTPONED

The dance festival scheduled for 2:15 today and the fathers' and sons' baseball game scheduled for 3:15 at Sunset School have been postponed until Monday. The kindergarten children will come at the usual time, however.

P. D. Shows Saving In City Clerk Mawdsley's Annual Financial Report

The police department has the distinction of being the only city department to have spent less money last year than the preceding year. According to the annual report of the City Clerk printed on pages 10 and 11, this issue of the Pine Cone, total expenditures of the police department for 1947 were $25,724.89; for 1946 they were $25,832.12. In spite of the police department's saving of $107.23, the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea ended the year with $18,540.64 less on hand than in 1946, when the tally for "total cash on hand, all funds" was $118,505.89. Total for 1947 was $99,965.25.

There is no cause for viewing with alarm the eighteen thousand odd dollars shrinkage, since $30,000 was paid out last year for city hall property and $4,973.26 was spent to build quarters for the police department.

A difference of balance in the general fund of $7,826.03 less at the end of last year than the preceding year (1946, $67,529.70—1947, $59,703.67) is accounted for largely through the various departments by increase in salaries and costs of supplies. Total increase in expenditure for the year was $10,443.73. There was an increase of revenue of $2,617.70, bringing the total revenue for 1947 to $152,983.76. In 1946 it was $150,366.06.

Various sources contributed to the increase in revenue, one of the most conspicous the business licenses, which netted the city $19,253.36, $2,673.81 over the preceding year's $16,579.55; but there was a decline in dog license revenue: $484.00 against the preceding year's $645.75, and it is the opinion of the City Tax Collector Thomas Hefling that the decrease in revenue is not attributable to a decrease in canine population. More optimist is bicycle license situation, up from $13 to $20.

When asked to account for the police department's unprecedented reduction in expenditure, City Clerk Peter Mawdsley pointed out that the department's saving was strictly technical, since it, like all the other departments, spent more all down the line from salary increases totalling $4000 to $30,more expended for badges and ammunition. These increases absorbed all but $107.23 of the saving of $2,169 on car allowance and $666.00 on gas and oil, and several miscellaneous items. The car allowance and gas and oil savings are attributable to the fact that the city bought its own patrol cars the preceding year.

FLOWER FIESTA POSTPONED

The heavy storm of the last two days make it necessary for the Carmel Woman's Club to postpone the Flower Fiesta scheduled for Saturday and Sunday in the Forest Theatre. It will be held May 7 and 8, instead.

Final Symphony Concert Set For May 12 At Sunset

May 12 has been announced as the date of the final concert of the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra. The concert will be held in the auditorium of Sunset School at 8:15 p.m.

President of the Symphony Association, Mrs. Grace C. Howden announced that the annual meeting of the members of the Association will be May 19 at 8 p.m. in the Carmel Art Gallery. All members of the Symphony Association are invited to attend; board members for the coming year will be elected at that time and there will be a social hour.

The members of the Association have planned a party to be given for members of the orchestra as a finale to their season of hard work and fine performances.

This year's programs of the nonprofit organization have been under the direction of Clifford Anderson and Lorell McCann, coconductors of the group. The factor of two regular conductors is a unique feature in a sympony orchestra of this size and caliber.

The final program will feature works by Liszt, Beethoven, Wagner, and Massenet and promises to be a fitting climax to a season of four successful performances.

Chief Fraties Urges Kids To Go Easier On Devendorf Plaza

"There is a gardener working full time in the park at Mission and Ocean" says Police Chief Roy Fraties, "but the high-school and grammar-school kids are always one jump ahead." Baseball and football games after school are damaging the shrubbery, and the goldfish are a little under the weather from being fished for, the Street Superintendent reports.

The Pine Cone has been asked by Chief Fraties to publish an appeal to young athletes and budding Isaac Waltons to give the park a little gentler treatment in the afternoons, so that we all may have an opportunity to enjoy it, and so that the goldfish may go without fear.

ATOMIC PEACE MEETING

There will be a meeting at Sunset School, Room 11, May 11 at 7:30 p.m. of all people who are interested in organizing for study and discussion on the subject of how to achieve world peace.

Zenas Potter, promotor of atomic week on the Peninsula, says that the purpose of the discussions will not be "for anybody to sell his ideas to somebody else," but for an objective survey of the situation and an evaluation of possible solutions.

CCAL TENNIS AND GOLF TOURNAMENT TOMORROW

Carmel High School tennis and golf squads will wind up the 1948 season tomorrow morning when they participate in the CCAL finals. John Westover's golfers tee off at 8 o'clock in quest of their first CCAL crown. Representing the Red and Grey will be Jim Hare, who is consistently in the 70's, Murrey Wight, runner-up in the Junior Tournament at San Francisco, Rod Dewar and Bill Rissel, rapidly improving seniors. These boys will match swings with divot diggers from Monterey, Watsonville, Salinas, and Santa Cruz.

Harlan Reyburn's racquet wielders will attempt to upset the rightly favored Monterey squad on the Monterey courts at 10 a.m. Lee Winslow, CCAL champ in 1947, will represent Carmel in singles play with Mat Schmutz and Basil Allaire teaming up for the doubles. The Padre tennis squad enjoyed a very successful season, losing only to Monterey and Los Gatos.

CARMEL RUNNERS MAKE GOOD SHOWING

Carmel High School's rugged distance runners proved they were the best in several leagues when they ran off with the medley relay last Friday night at the Hollister Relays. Anchored by Bob Barry, NCS mile champ, the Padre team lowered the Hollister Relay record which they set last year. Dick Garguilo started the medley with a fine 220, Bill Hodgson followed by running his best 440, Dick Weer held them off in the 880, and Bob Barry ran the competition into the ground with a 4:35 mile.

In the Burlingame Relays last Saturday, the Padre 2 mile team ran second to a record-breaking effort by Lincoln of San Jose. Carmel finished well in front of the best from San Francisco and the Peninsula Athletic League. Bill Hodgson, Dick Weer, Herman Menezs, and Bob Barry made up the ribbon winning team.

Next track event for the Red and Grey will be the CCAL Championships at Hollister tomorrow at 1:30.

SHAMROCKS SINK PILOTS; GIANTS PUT DROP ON TIGERS

STANDINGS	Won	Lost
Giants	4	1
Tigers	3	2
Shamrocks	3	2
Pilots	0	5

Favored by perfect baseball weather, the Abalone Leaguers gathered at the high school field last Sunday and played off one of their postponed series. The up and coming Whiteside Giants dulled the claws of the once potent Tigers and ran over Gile's boys, 12 to 7. Gile proved to be a cousin for the hard-hitting Giants who peppered his best offerings for 16 base hits.

The Shamrock-Pilot game went about as advertised when Huffman's green tops outsteadied Knight's navigators, 11 to 5. Potent stick work by Lew Saunders and Orville Rogers provided the dynamite for Huffman's charges.

Next Sunday, Jupiter Pluvius willing, the Tigers will play the Shamrocks at 1:30 and the Giants play the Pilots at 2:30.

PINE CONE SOFTBALL TEAM PREPARES FOR BUSY SEASON

After two weeks of practice sessions, the Pine Cone softball nine is ready to take on a few practice games to tune up for the tough tilts which are on tap for the next three months. Tonight the Coners tangle with the Lob Cabin team from Watsonville. The locals handled the Cabin Club rather easily last year, but a new pitching importation will make the visitors more potent this season. Next Wednesday night the strong Naval Air Station outfit will provide the competition for the locals. The Flyers boast a professional pitcher who should give the Pine Cone hitters a severe test.

A balky appendix has robbed the Coners of the expert services of Gordy Miyamoto, and his position will be hard to fill. Ky Miyamoto has been tangled up in his strawberry patch for the last few weeks, but will be on hand when the rough competition starts in June.

For tonight's practice clash with Watsonville, the Pine Cone will

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Sam's Hens
Wear Spectacles!

Yes, it's a fact! Sam's brood of two dozen hens are wearing spectacles—which he bought from a mail-order house in Capitol City.

Sam says it works (and big poultry raisers say so, too). The hens see each other through soft colored glasses, and instead of fighting and picking at each other, they go around placidly, gain weight, and lay more eggs.

Makes me almost wish we could have rose-colored glasses for human beings, too. So that instead of quarreling and criticizing, like we do so much of the time, we'd live and let live in contentment.

From where I sit, the human race wastes a powerful lot of time in wrangling over minor issues . . . whether a man should drink beer or cider . . . whether a woman should wear slacks or skirts . . . instead of seeing each other through "spectacles" of tolerance that enable us to live-and-let-live like Sam's brood of chickens.

MUSICALS AT FOREST HILL

A series of musical programs in the Fireside Lounge of the Forest Hill Hotel in Pacific Grove, beginning Sunday, May 2, was announced this week by Henry Alexander of the Forest Hill. These entertainments are to be held every Sunday at 8:30 p.m., with the exception of May 16, in deference to the Musical Arts Group in Carmel.

The musical evenings will be free to the public, but it is suggested by Mr. Alexander that reservations be made by calling Monterey 5125.

Appearing this Sunday will be the following artists: Natalie Kayser of Pacific Grove, lyric soprano, and student of Pietro Cimini of Los Angeles and of Dorothy Goudge of Pacific Grove; Howard Van Deren, magician, of Pacific Grove; Charles D. Lockwood, guitarist, of Monterey; and Dorothy Goudge. Miss Goudge is a graduate of the Royal Academy of Music and of the Tonic Solfa Academy of London.

HIGHLANDS COCKTAILS

Colonel and Mrs. Alfred S. Balsam gave a cocktail party Sunday in honor of their son, former Lt. in the U. S. Army, Alfred (Dick) Balsam, who has just been released from two years of post-war activity in Germany. Mr. Balsam was stationed in Tauberbifchofsheim during his post-war duty, but now plans to settle in Carmel permanently. Fifty guests gathered at the Balsam home in the Highlands, Surf Song, to honor Mr. Balsam's return, and among them were many of his old friends in Carmel and many of his parents' friends all eager to welcome him home again.

Boy Scout News—

Carmel, Pacific Grove, Monterey, and Seaside Boy Scouts joined together in a two day camporee at the Monterey Fair Grounds on Saturday, April 24-25. The Scuts camped in patrols under their own Scout leadership with Scoutmasters Carl Bensberg and Bill Smith attending on an observer basis. The Otter Patrol of Troop 86 achieved the highest ratings receiving a 1st Class rating for Scoutcraft event and an expert Camper rating for campcraft. The Eagle Head Patrol and the Black Bear Patrol of Troop 32 both received Camper Award in camp craft and 2nd Class and 1st Class ratings respectively in Scoutcraft.

The boys cooked their own meals on a patrol basis and set up their own camps. They visited Scout Skill demonstration areas on Saturday afternoon and attended a big campfire Saturday evening. On Sunday they attended church services, competed in Scoutcraft events, and participated in inter-troop relays.

Clubhouse Meeting

A meeting of the Carmel Woman's Club members was held last Monday afternoon at the Girl Scout House at 3:00 p.m. for the discussion of proposed plans for the Carmel Woman's Club new clubhouse. Mr. Thomas S. Elston, Jr., architect, displayed tentative plans that he had drawn up at the request of Miss Amy Campbell, Chairman of Ways and Means committee. The members participated considerably in the discussion about the plans, and the final decision is held in abeyance.

Preceding the meeting a reception honoring new members, thirty of whom have joined in the last year, was given, and each new member was presented with a camelia corsage made by Mrs. F. E. Naftzger, Garden Section Chairman. The beautiful floral decorations were by Mrs. E. M. Beecher. Hostesses for the reception were Mrs. C. U. Fonteneau and Mrs. Ella Harris; pouring were Mrs. Grace Howden and Mrs. Alfred Matthews.

Spring Luncheon

The Spring Luncheon of the Monterey Peninsula Republican Women was held on Tuesday, April 27, at the Mission Ranch in Carmel. It was attended by over two hundred men and women who thoroughly enjoyed the talk given by Ruth Comfort Mitchell.

Delightful spring atmosphere was gained by the tables arranged with bright flowers by a committee consisting of Mrs. W. A. Buckner, Mrs. Lowell Bowhay, and Mrs. J. A. Abernethy. Mrs. Fenton Grigsby, vice president of the organization, presided because of the illness of President Mrs. Karl W. Hisgen. Mrs. Grigsby introduced Senator and Mrs. Fred Weybert, Mrs. Edna Coleman, Nuetzel, chairman of the study group, Mrs. Milton Marquard, Congressional chairman of Monterey County, and Mrs. C. C. Baker, Republican leader from Northern California, who introduced the principal speaker, Ruth Comfort Mitchell.

Miss Mitchell emphasized the important part women are able to play in government procedure and in forming the opinions of those others participating in political activities. She believes that women should assist in governmental housecleaning, and should rededicate themselves to early American ideals of freedom, to good clean thinking, the kind Abraham Lincoln stood for. She made an interesting point that the home is now the whole world and therefore it is necessary to elect a President who will be able to function as a whole world citizen.

Twenty-five Republican women acted as hostesses for the luncheon as well as the club officers. Miss Lucy Valpey entertained with pleasant music and presented one of her talented pupils, Joyce Welty, who sang. Dorothy Dean and Daavin Johnson danced for the group pleasure.

The next meeting of Republican women will be held in May at Pacific Grove. Republican candidates will speak. Mrs. Daisy Taylor, member of the state Central Committee, will review the record of the Republican congress.

Hi Chatter...

By Peggy Riker

In conjunction with their class work, the drama group took the afternoon off Tuesday in order to enjoy Charles Dickens' immortal Great Expectations. Such excursions as this have widened the scope of their theatrical knowledge and added to everyone's enjoyment.

Once again Carmel High School can claim a girls' tennis team which will participate in interschool contests throughout the remainder of the spring. The team composed of Pat Timbers, Anne Fratessa, Jennefer Lloyd, Cynthia Carr, Edwina Brown, and Peggy Riker traveled to Salinas Wednesday to challenge the junior college tennis team.

Baseball, almost overlooked in a sports calendar crammed full of athletic events, began this week with an eye-opening upset. The freshmen team, favored to win by a decisive margin, lost to a scrappy and skillful 8th Grade squad.

As the year draws to a close, the student body gave its approval to a new and improved constitution by which it must govern its affairs during the coming year. The first semester legislature drew up the document but failed to have it ratified. The present governing body under the guidance of President, Bob Barry, made the necessary alterations in structure.

Preparing the senior boys for the possible advent of the draft, the United States Army Recruiting Service presented two educational pictures on Tuesday: Your Army Today and Plan For Peace, both War Department films. A discussion period was held at their conclusion during which officers were present to answer questions regarding military service.

Emma Ragaz

Carmel friends of Mrs. Emma Waldvogel Ragaz, for many years a resident of the Peninsula and well-known in local art circles, heard by letter on April 23 that she had died on April 9 in Zurich, Switzerland. Although she had been frail for several years, her death was an unexpected shock to friends both in Carmel and Monterey.

A native of Switzerland, Mrs. Ragaz first came to the Peninsula in 1921, when she opened the Waldvogel Studio in the old adobe in Monterey that is now the Monterey Boys' Club. In 1932 the studio was moved to the Asilomar district. In 1938, she returned to Zurich, where she was married and subsequently made her home.

Mrs. Ragaz was famous for her fine and unusual embroidery work, a subject she studied in Switzerland. She was a member of the Carmel Music Society.

EASTERN VISIT

Mrs. Elizabeth B. Marsh of Carmel leaves today for New York City to visit her daughter Mrs. Leonardo DeMoreles. Mrs. Marsh will be away for a few months.

Peter Taylor Is The Name, Not Thomas

In my Carmel Story printed in the Pine Cone of April 9, I gave the name of Thomas Taylor as being a member of the first Board of Trustees when the town was incorporated in 1916. It should have been Peter Taylor, one of the town's outstanding citizens who did so much those days for the growing village. Aside from his serving as one of our first town Trustees he was always ready to act in any capacity where he was needed. At various times he was on the Library Board, the School Board, and was an official of the local Red Cross.

Peter Taylor was born in Scotland, came when but an infant to America, grew up in Chicago and became identified with a large electrical concern there. Upon retiring he came to Carmel to live. His death occurred in 1936. His wife and daughter still live here. Jean is proud of the fact that she was the only child born to any member of that first Board of Trustees. Her husband is John Chitwood, Commander of the U.S. Navy, retired, and her son is John Chitwood, Jr. Peter Taylor and his descendants have a place in the affections of the Carmel oldtimers. —Daisy Bostick.

How to Fall in Love in one very easy lesson

White sidewall tires, as illustrated, available at extra cost

TAKE a clear day—a Dynaflow* Buick—and a mind open to new experiences.

Turn the key in the lock—press down the gas treadle—and set this mighty Fireball straight-eight purring. Now:

Flick the selector lever till the pointer indicates "D"—that's for driving. Feed a little gas—and see what happens.

Smoothly, you slip away from the curb. Silkily you build up momentum. Effortlessly you cruise at whatever pace your treadle toe selects.

Look! you say. A stop light! What do I do?

Nothing special. Let up on the gas. Apply the foot brake as you need it.

That all? Won't the engine stall? Don't I shift?

That's all. Your engine won't stall. You don't shift. Just sit there till the coast is clear. Then step on it. Step hard and you're off like a rabbit. Step lightly, and you ease smoothly away.

What's happening? you want to know. What's doing the shifting? Some mechanical hand under the floor boards?

Not in this car, sir. Oil does it all—spinning oil. Oil whirling to give you starting surge—power build-up—efficient cruising—engine braking effect on hills.

Oil that does everything the usual low, second and high gears do—without any gearshifting on your part—and without the slightest break in your stride except when you want it.

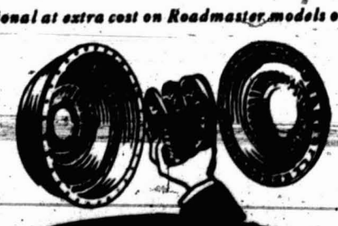

Say no more! I'm sold! Where do I sign up?

There's only one place. Only Buick has Dynaflow Drive, and no other American car has anything like it. With or without a car to trade, better see your Buick dealer first minute you can.

What's Different About DYNAFLOW DRIVE*?

To an efficient new pump (left below), Buick engineers have added a true turbine (right) and an ingenious new supercharging assembly (in hand) which produce a torque-boosting action in starting and accelerating. The result is the first device on any American passenger car which employs liquid to fill the function of both the clutch and the usual low, second and high gears. The clutch pedal is eliminated and a simple control gives you manual selection of power ranges and direction.

*Optional at extra cost on Roadmaster models only.

When better automobiles are built BUICK will build them

BUICK alone has all these features

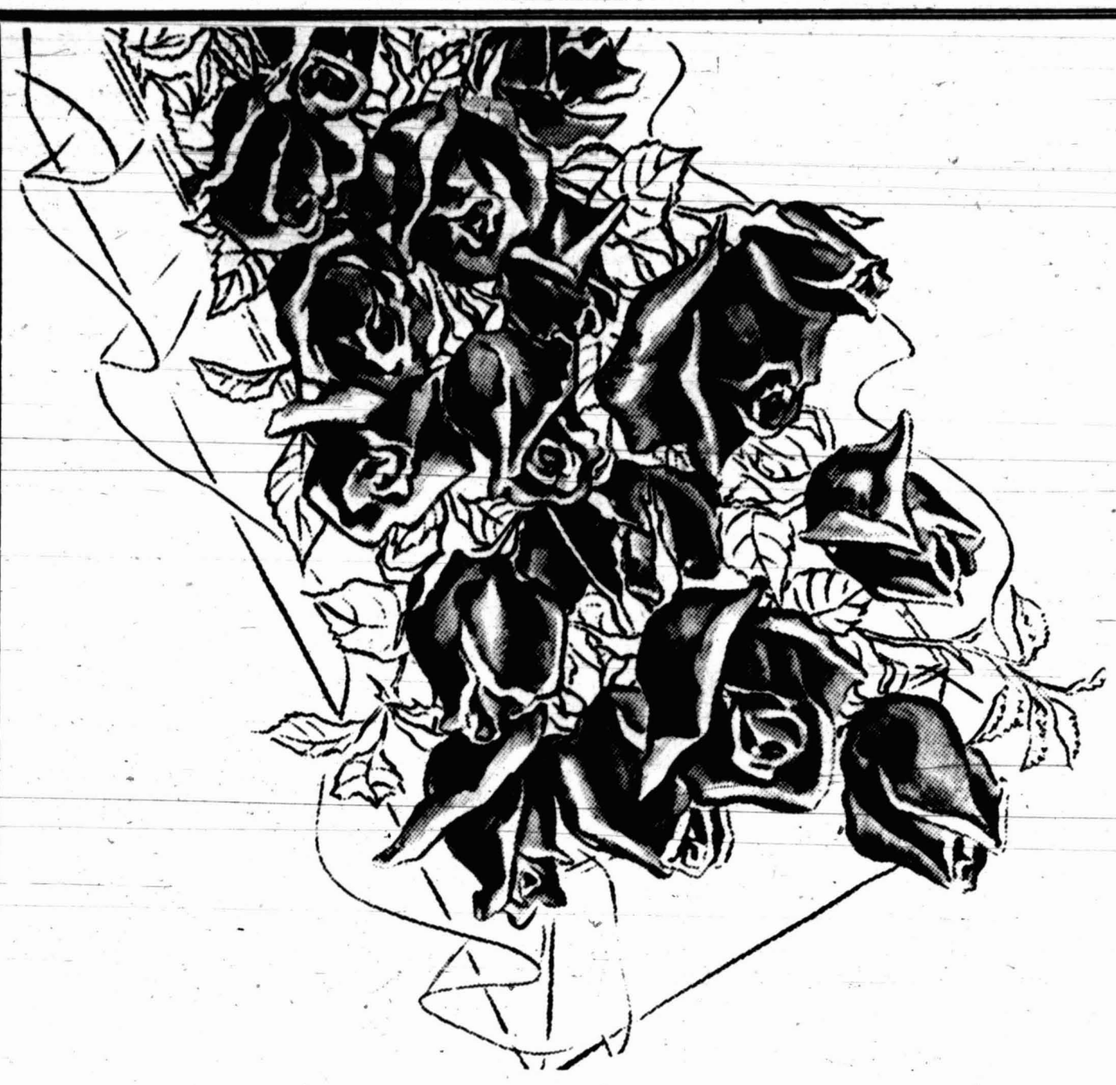

★ DYNAFLOW DRIVE (Optional Roadmaster Series) ★ TAPER-THRU STYLING (Super and Roadmaster)

New Show Opens May 1 At Gallery

There will be a new show of both oils and water colors at the Carmel Art Association Gallery beginning May 1, the Association announced on Wednesday. Artists are asked to have their work in by Friday, April 30.

To be held simultaneously in the Beardsley Gallery, a one-man show by Burton Boundey will run for two weeks beginning May 1, and will be followed by a showing of the annual state-wide high school exhibition. This will be in conjunction with the annual high school festival of art, in which all the high schools in California will participate. Prizes will be contributed by the Carmel Business Association, and the Carmel High School's athletic fund is contributing $25 toward the expenses. Judging will be handled by the Carmel Art Association.

All Saints' Rummage Sale Set For May 12

The Woman's Auxiliary of All Saints' Episcopal Church will hold their annual Rummage Sale in the Parish House on Monte Verde, just south of Ocean on Wednesday, May 12. So this is the last week for all friends of the Auxiliary, to bring in things for the sale. Phone Mrs. F. Garner Boice, 160-J or Mrs. R. Ellis Roberts 2235-J, to call for them.

The doors will open at 10 a.m. and no sales can be made before that hour.

The General Chairmen in charge of the sale are Mrs. F. Garner Boice and Mrs. J. P. McNeill.

Samuel L. Lewis

Samuel L. Lewis, a resident of Carmel since 1935, and the developer of the famous Begonia gardens at Sunset Terrace at Dolores and Fourth, died at his home on April 23. Mr. Lewis was retired at the time of his death. He leaves three daughters: Mrs. Margaret Albanese of San Rafael, Mrs. Jack Irvine of San Francisco, and Miss Eugenia Lewis of Pasadena.

The gardens have been famous for many years, being a focal point of horticulturists from other states. Mr. Lewis was born 68 years ago in Brownville, New York, and had been in ill health for some time.

Funeral services were held on Monday morning at the Little Chapel by the Sea Crematorium in Pacific Grove, with Dr. K. Fillmore Gray officiating. The Paul Mortuary was in charge of the arrangements.

Dr. Billie's Garden

By L. A. W.

I am supposing that you recall with certain nostalgia—or possibly nausea—the time when "Caesar had to do everything all at once." That's a gardener's typical situation in the month of May. Somehow plans and schedules have a way of becoming t a n g l e s and mazes in this giddy month.

For one thing there's the campaign against "bugs and worms and things that girls are skeered at." The April rains have set the garden varmints in a frenzy. So, unless I want to fight it out along this line all summer something must be d o n e. The proverbial ounce of prevention and stitch in time pays good dividends. (Can you mix that figure of speech any further?) Almost any of the pest destroyers will do the job but I have to be faithful in the follow-up.

See that lovely white butterfly with those geometrically e x a c t dark spots on his wings? Well, he's the fellow responsible for those downy green worms in the cauliflower and broccoli heads. Just the color of the young leaves at the base of the head, they practically defy detection. Persistent use of any rotenone dusting p o w d e r—right at the base of the cauliflower or broccoli heads—keeps him at bay, but I can't stop with a single dusting. He's not an only child.

Then there are beans. I try to plant both bush and pole at about the same time. The former mature faster than the latter so by simultaneous planning I get a natural succession. Besides the snap beans we like the shell or horticultural. Not many folks know these. They shell out when still green and make a first-class dish of stewed or boiled beans. Doesn't hurt them a bit to boil a two-inch cube of salt pork, or a piece of bacon rind along with them. (So says E.B.W.)

Of course I would like to have some limas. For three years now I have tried them and couldn't get the seeds to come up. I follow all the rules, I go out every day and talk to them, I practically test the ground for surplus or insufficient moisture and yet there are no results. Could be my garden gets too much cold salt wind.

So there are squashes, cucumbers, more beets and carrots, pepper plants, more lettuce to plant, to say nothing of the need for weeding and thinning the early garden. Getting near time to dig some potatoes and pick a few peas —eating kind. Berry bushes need weeding. Caesar, you have my sympathy. You had good reason to gripe.

EASTERN JAUNT

Dr. Ray Brownell, after a gay send-off party by Kay Brownell left Saturday morning for a two weeks' jaunt t h r o u g h Chicago, New York and Baltimore. The Doctor will stop first in Columbus, Ohio, to attend an orthodontia dental convention. Other highlight of his trip will be a visit with his daughter, Mrs. Norman McLean, of Michigan.

Mechthild Johannsen Sings For Appreciative Group At Hollow Hills

It was a rare and beautiful experience to listen to the singing of Mechthild Johannsen at Hollow Hills Farm last Sunday evening. She will be remembered as Mary Perrybingle in The Cricket on the Hearth given here a few months ago by the Ojai Festival Players. In a simple program for St. Mark's Day, she sang a group of folk songs, two lovely Bach arias and several compositions in the modern mode.

The folk songs were accompanied by her own playing on the zither. This instrument was used delicately and with a fine artistry, so that it seemed like rustling sweeps of the wind moving among the tones of the voice. Seldom are folk songs heard sung with such a charming combination of earnestness and playfulness. Miss Johannsen's voice is just right for such singing. It is a natural voice, with none of the tricks of the over-trained singer. It is clear and shinning in its own range, warm and vibrant and full of quiet emotion. It moves from grief to joy with a gentle transition, making the one as convincing as the other. In the lovely old English song, All in the Morning, this was particularly evident. Where could one ever hear a religious folk song so movingly and tenderly sung? Such art is indeed rare in our times.

Of the two Bach arias sung by this enchanting singer the second was particularly touching in its grave beauty. It was more than a song. It was a message. It was the cry of the human spirit resisting, yet accepting its fate in this strange world—where "all must die."

Three songs by Hugo Wolff, with their unusual and refreshing cadences gave evidence of Miss Johannsen's thorough musical understanding. The delightful elfenlied had all the magic of a fairy-tale, all the charm which is ever a gift of grace and comes to the listener from no one knows where.

In the third, fourth and sixth groups Miss Johannsen was ably and sensitively accompanied at the piano by Richard Ames, who played the Second Suite for Harpsichord, by Henry Purcell and the very interesting, dissonant Masque by John Lessard.

Two encores, Solveig's Song by Grieg and an aria from Pelleas and Melisande by Debussy brought the charming program to a close.

Altogether it was an evening of genuine musical enjoyment, made possible by the hospitality of Noel Sullivan and his beautiful music room designed for just such occasions.

—D. H.

The Time Has Come . .

By Kippy Stuart

May is the month to start your chrysanthemum and daisy gardens. Accept your neighbor's invitation to spruce up your own garden. This is such a simple operation and it helps your neighbor to thin out her own garden. The wide variety of daisies that grow on this Peninsula gives you room to pick and choose. The king of them all is the Grand Marconi Daisy that looks like a cross between a daisy and a chrysanthemum. This plant grows to a height of two feet with great, shaggy, white blooms that measure five to seven inches in diameter. Then there is the Ester Reed daisy; a compact bloom, that resembles a button dahlia, smaller than the Grand Marconi, yet lovely to look upon. The third choice is the Chiffon Daisy. The fluttery, white flower looks its name, as though it had been fashioned from sheer chiffon.

Daisy culture does not require an expert gardener. These three varieties will grow in almost any soil and require small care save for watering in the dry months. When looking for new, young plants, remove the entire mother plant and look carefully at the roots. You will see numerous small suckers branching from the main root. Don't cut these off; pull gently and the new plant will separate itself from the main root. One established Grand Marconi plant will have as many as ten or fifteen side shoots and each shoot will mature into a blooming plant this year. Place the mother root back in the earth and press down hard. Leave a depression around the root and fill with water.

The Marguerite Daisies, the bush variety, both white and yellow, are propogated differently. They do not welcome tampering with their roots, yet they are just as easy to grow. Cut slips from established plants, and make your cut just below a joint. Place this slip in damp sand (not beach sand), and watch it grow. They root rapidly and this is the time of year to start Marguerites.

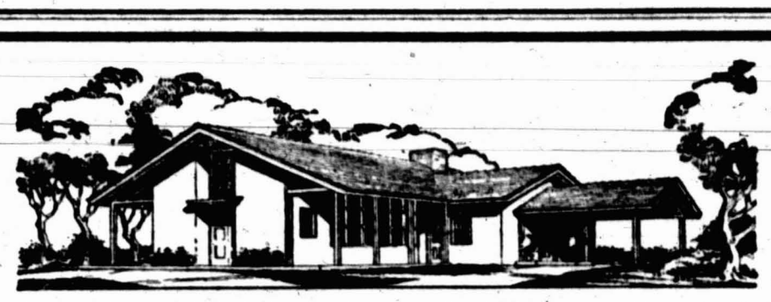

There are literally hundreds of chrysanthemums. Don't attempt the "football" variety; leave that to the experts. The garden chrysanthemum is well suited to casual gardening and one may have color that lingers long after other garden flowers are through. When taking young shoots from an established chrysanthemum plant, the proceedure is much like that of the Grand Marconi, but it is not necessary to remove the mother root of the chrysanthemum. Dig down at one side of the plant until you see a new shoot, then pull gently. If the shoot separates itself easily, and if the shoot has a few hair-like roots, you have your new plant. It is wise to start these new shoots in pots, but not absolutely necessary. Where ever you place them, be sure to keep soil damp until new plant takes hold.

I have never been bothered with garden pests on any of my daisies, but chrysanthemums have their enemies. They are prey to the usual marauders, thrip, aphis and red spider. Nicotine spray once or twice during the summer months halts these creatures. Keep buds picked off when they come in clusters. The single bud gives a better flower although the button variety may be left to come in blooming clusters.

POET RETURNS

Poet Leonard Woolf has returned to Carmel after a two weeks' absence during which time he read his own poetry at the San Francisco Poetry Festival, and met one-time Carmel dweller poetess Muriel Rukeyser, once a definite part of the village literary group. Mr. Woolf will continue working away at his novel on Big Sur.

Here's why we say WOMEN CAN GO PLACES IN THIS BUSINESS

1. This is a story of a typical Pacific Telephone "career girl." She started as an operator back in the thirties...a good job then, even better now. Today most new operators just out of high school average better than $35 a week when they start handling calls and many experienced operators earn $50 a week.

2. She was promoted to supervisor after a few years. Training new girls was an important part of the job...for Pacific Telephone was growing. She enjoyed vacations every year . . . with pay, of course. And she joined in many local telephone activities. Found telephone people friendly and sociable ..on or off the job.

3. She's a chief operator now supervising 70 women...her responsibilities and experience help determine her salary of $4,500 a year. Many "chiefs" earn more. Two-thirds of our people are women—hundreds have management jobs—five are assistant vice presidents. Yes, women can go places in this business.

4. Telephone jobs must be good jobs to attract the capable people needed to furnish service. Good pay, steady work and an employee benefit plan give a strong sense of security. Comfortable surroundings, vacations and friendly fellow workers help make work pleasant.

Sunset School News

Mrs. Myra T. Mylar's Fifth Grade.

Our class saw one exhibit in the art room at Sunset. The pictures that were shown there were photographs of copies of original documents. Some were letters by presidents or to them. One was the Bill of Rights, another the Declaration of Independence, and many others.

Later our fifth grades at Sunset went together on a school bus to Monterey to see another exhibit at Colton Hall. These are just a few of the things we saw: Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, New Jersey Plan, Paul Revere's Commission as Messenger, and the Marshall Plan. There were so many others that it would be hard to tell them all. All the people who saw the Freedom Exhibit know how much all the real documents mean to the American citizens.

—Phyllis Burnette.

Our class gave a security play for all the grades in the school. Instead of them coming to see us, we went to each room. We were asked to do it because our room handles all the stamp and bond work for the school. From April 15 to June 30 we are going to try to help the government by buying stamps and bonds.

The play was written by Denice Westcott and Danny Brosnan. Gary Nielsen and Denice played the brother and sister roles. They were good children and always bought stamps while Danny was a poor saver and always bought candy, gum, and soda-pop and never, never bought stamps. In the end he had a dream that changes his mind. The characters appearing in this dream are; Soda-pop, Sally Spurr; Gum, Ramona DeStaffany; Candy, Bobby Kibler; and Stamps, Pat Grimshaw.

Carol Shield played the mother, and the whole class had a part in saying a verse at the closing. Jon Chase was the announcer.

In our room, each nine weeks we have a new library chart. This time our teacher asked us to design our own chart. Only two children made them and they explained how they were to be used. The two girls were Janet Fraser and Gretchen Herron. Both ideas were very good. We voted and Janet's won. Her idea was to have each pupil make an airplane on a small slip of paper. Its width was three and three-fourths inches and the heighth was one and one-half inches. As you made a book report you could move it a space. At the end you would have done eight book reports, and your plane would find its place in the hangar.

Janet appointed a boy and a girl to work with her in making the chart. The boy was Pat Grimshaw but he didn't want to do it. The girl was Phyllis Burnette and she did want to help with the chart.

—Sarah McCloud.

The two fifth grades at school gave a dance program for the last P.T.A. meeting. They did three folk dances. The first was the Rye Waltz with both groups dancing. The second was the Sicilian Circle with just Mrs. Uzzell's class on the floor. The last dance was the Varsouviana with both groups. My favorite of all was the last one.

—Ramona DeStaffany.

A couple of weeks ago we had a bird circus in the auditorium. At first the man made different bird calls and showed the picure of the bird. Then he brought out some parakeets and one love bird. The parakeets and Tim, the love bird did tricks like pulling a toy cart, riding a toy motorcycle, climbing poles, and turning somersaults. One walked through some tunnels. Then Mr. Meyer said he would turn the tunnels up-side down so the bird would bump into them but the bird turned them right-side up and walked through them. At the end a pretty white pigeon was shown.

Carmel Story . . .

By Daisy Bostick

CARMEL CITY COUNCIL
Chapter III

The real history of a community lies in the laws passed by its governing body. A brief summary of some of the ordinances will show the general trend of the community toward safeguarding the natural beauty and simplicity that distinguish Carmel village from other small towns. And you will get some chuckles out of them too.

During the first ten years of our existence as an incorporated town the population was very small; the problems were not great. The trustees were just feeling their way. The ordinances dealt mainly with the impounding and taxing of stray animals, discharge of firearms and fireworks, prohibiting destruction of trees (Ordinance No. 7), prohibiting gambling, repair of sidewalks and public drinking trough at Ocean Avenue and San Carlos, establishing a speed limit for automobiles, regulation of electric signs. The laws pertaining to street improvements, sewerage, paving, building of a City Hall and purchase of fire apparatus were all extremely controversial and there was many a bitter fight.

In the early days, as now, a big headache to the Trustees was what to do about stray animals. They tried impounding, taxing and prohibiting them. Your cat had to have a license which cost you fifty cents. You got a receipt accompanied by description of said cat enumerating breed, sex, color, marking, size and name. Imagine the job of rounding up all the Carmel tabbies. The poor old Marshall finally rebelled. He felt it an indignity to anyone wearing the uniform of Chief of Police and riding the finest horse around here. So the law just wore itself out and nothing was done about it.

The ordinance prohibited chickens and other domestic fowl from appearing on the main street. The fine was one hundred dollars or imprisonment in the County Jail for thirty days—or both. For the owners, not the chickens.

The owners argued with their pets but to no avail. The feathered gentry persisted in wandering up and down the main street, investigating the inside of shops, scratching up the gardens and awakening the late sleepers with their crowings at sunrise. The lawmakers were licked.

Horses also received attention. They were prohibited from the beach south of Ocean Avenue. You couldn't ride, drive, lead or permit a horse, mule or donkey to walk, stand, trot or gallop on the beach. (Quoted.)

In looking over the ordinances of those earlier days I found one that provided for the numbering of houses and for the life and soul of me I couldn't find one repealing it. Maybe it is yet in force like the blue laws of Connecticut, still forbidding a man to kiss his wife on a Sunday. If our house numbering law has never been repealed, practically the whole population is subject to fine.

The ordinance was passed about the time we were led to believe that the government might install mail delivery, if certain conditions were accepted. As I remember, such a change would involve the construction of sidewalks throughout the village and the numbering of houses. The people didn't like that idea. They much preferred to go to the Post Office and have their little daily gossip with one another while waiting for the mail to be placed in the boxes. And the dogfights inside the building with the owners taking sides were interesting. They got up a petition and sent it to the Federal government at Washington, D. C. protesting the plan, and for years after, they bragged that Carmel was probably the only incorporated city in the U. S. that didn't want mail delivery.

ELBOW-ROOM FOR THOUGHT

A man needs elbow-room for thought—
No walls to close him in;
To clamp him in a narrow place,
No rigid minds to shoulder him
Or crowd his reaching-space.

He needs a breadth for solitude
Wherein his mind can be
A green receptacle of sky,
Full-branched and airy, leaping wide,
Deep-rooted as a tree.

—Dora Hagameyer.

THE SKY-BORN

There are those who ever seek the far
Horizon's rim; within whose questing eyes
The ever-shifting moonstone arc of skies
Is born. There is no earth-bound cage or bar
To those within whose searching souls there are
Two falcon hearts . . . two worlds that compromise
Strange loveliness into a thin disguise
To mask the burning magnet of a star.

He who would retard one soaring wing
Must lie in swift defeat; the sea is wide
But all its tranquil foam and murmuring
Serve but the moon and her resistless pride.
Those there are whose sky-born hearts must sing
Of splendid worlds that lie beyond the tide.

—Edythe Hope Genee.

WINTER GRASS

The beetle has left and no cricket squats
In his own thicket, built close to the ground,
The bee does not nose the spare blades, the plots
Once pulsing and humming are without sound.

On the long lanes and roads, the passage-ways,
The hidden tunnels of the winter grass
No wagons move, the ants' top-heavy drays
Are stalled, the one-time workers do not pass.

The friendless spider, hermit of a wood,
Now spires no lures, this green community
Which sheltered day and night a multitude
Of toilers, each to his own industry,
Is dead as Babylon, the lean stirring
Of a lost wind is only on the wing.

—Alex R. Schmidt.

END OF A WORLD

Night has forgotten now the sun
And stars hoodwink him into dreams
Of all the better days to come.
Old dreamer, no, not yet.

Winter months corrode a year
And earth has circled back to spring.
What hopes he fabricated here
His next of kin forget.

The old man hears the step of death,
His many seasons drained away.
While all the awed grandchildren fret
He meters his exhausted breath to pray.

—J. S. Moodey.

Have You Read . . . ?

The Fountainhead, by Ayn Rand, (The Bobbs - Merrill Company.)

By Dallas Edgar

The Fountainhead is centered around the uncompromising character of Howard Roark, architect, whose major interest is designing buildings and designing them according to his own ideas, with no concessions to the opinions of his clients.

Roark is a symbol of the book's theme—personal integrity, to be arrived at through complete selfishness. This selfishness involves a lack of the false fronts which we assume for the purpose of impressing our fellows, and may be expressed by the familiar quotation, "This above all: to thine own self be true."

There are four other main characters, two of whom, sympathetic to Roark, represent enlightenment, and two of whom, opposed to Roark, stand for the forces of evil. The three protagonists of the book are delicately etched, and yet are of so great a stature, with certain characteristics emphasized to the point of distortion, that they give the impression of being animated marble to the end. Gail Wynand, creator of a vast publishing empire, crumbles so easily that we suspect he was made of sandstone, and the statue that is Dominique Francon is shot through with streaks of neuroticism. (To indulge in a mixed metaphor.)

Peter Keating, brilliantly successful architect, is made pitiable by the author. Although continually running to Roark for technical advice, he hates him without quite knowing why.

Ellsworth M. Toohey, columnist on one of Gail Wynand's newspapers, hates Roark but unlike Keating he has his reasons. Toohey has an ambition right out of Astounding Fiction. He wants to rule the world, and he knows that to do this he must stultify the intellects of the populace. Non-conformists like Howard Roark must either be liquidated or laughed into obscurity.

The most arresting individual, to me, is Dominique Francon, Roark's lover. As her personality develops, it becomes easy to imagine that the author, in an attempt to draw a woman of unusually high morality and honesty, deliberately caused her several times to violate the accepted moral code. This attempt was not entirely successful; Dominique, an admittedly intelligent woman, experiences only boredom and the desire for self-flagellation from her association with the less gifted. This indicates not intelligence but neuroticism.

Conflict is the keynote of The Fountainhead; the historic conflict of the man of originality against established ideas. There is also the conflict, recurring rhythmically, that evolves from the encounters of the major characters, both with one another and with society at large.

Howard Roark, Gail Wynand, and Dominique Francon are delineated separately by the author before she gives them the shove that will ultimately bring them into contact with one another. The reader is likely to find himself both absorbed in speculating on the outcome of the approaching encounters, and figuratively holding his hands over his ears in anticipation of the fireworks. Something, he realizes, has to give way. It does, and even the facility of the author is not enough to keep the story in control and bring about an entirely satisfactory conclusion.

An interesting sidelight on the author: she arrived in this country as a fugitive from a position as a museum guide in Soviet Russia, penniless and unable to speak a word of English. She learned the language rapidly and earned her first literary success with a play, The Night of January 16. This play, incidentally, is to be presented in Sunset Auditorium on May 21 and 22, sponsored by the Carmel Lions Club, and directed by Lee Crowe.

Escape From Bogota

Bloody riots and civil disorder are now mere headlines for Senor and Senora Alberto Isaza of Bogota, Colombia, and their son, Ernesto, who left South America for business in San Francisco, just in time to escape the worst of the revolution. They spent a quiet week end recently at the Holman Ranch in the Carmel Valley, and enjoyed thoroughly the hacienda-like atmosphere of the ranch. Ernesto Isaza plans to attend Stanford University.

Destination: Guam

Lt. and Mrs. Doron Warren came down from Moffett Field, where Lt. Warren is stationed, to spend the week end with Lucille Shattuck and her brother Paul Shattuck. Lt. Warren flies Friday to Montclair, New Jersery, on a thirty-day leave to visit his parents Mr. and Mrs. D. Warren. He then returns to the coast to leave for his new station in Guam.

Saturday night Mr. and Miss Shattuck gave a small party to entertain their house guests. Among those invited were Quentin Warren, brother of Lt. Warren, and Lt. and Mrs. Robert Ebersole from the Navy Line School at Del Monte.

Athletic Meet

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Flint will leave this week end for Santa Rosa where they will attend an athletic meeting of the Santa Rosa College. Mr. Hal Youngman, coach at the Monterey Peninsula College, will travel to Santa Rosa with the Flints. Mr. Flint is the director of the Monterey Peninsula College.

Cruising Through Santa Fe

Miss Betty Horst and Mrs. Byington Ford left last week for a leisurely auto cruise through New Mexico. They planned to look over Boulder Dam and eventually to spend some time in Santa Fe.

Church Women's Breakfast

Annual May breakfast of the Monterey Peninsula Council of Church Women will be held next Friday forenoon at 11:30 at the Presbyterian Church in Monterey. Theme for the day's meeting is Every Child Is My Child. Mrs. John W. Dickinson will broadcast over KDON at 10:15 to 10:30 a message on the theme, prepared by the Reverend Tod B. Sperling. The meeting at 1:30 will carry out the theme, with Mr. John Kelly, county probation officer, as speaker.

Reservations for the breakfast, which is open to all interested women, must be made by Tuesday evening, May 4. Taking reservations are Mrs. Dickinson, 519-R; Miss Agnes Williston, 876-W; and during the afternoon office hours at the Church of the Wayfarer, Miss Naomi Fletcher, 1540W. Election of officers and reports will occupy the business meeting conducted by the retiring president, Mrs. Ramsey Benson, immediately following breakfast.

Hollow Hills Concert

The Hollow Hills Farm of Noel Sullivan was the Sunday setting of a recital given by Mechthild Johannsen (Mrs. Alan Harkness.) Miss Johannsen was born in Switzerland and came to America as a child; her singing studies in New York were under the guidance of Hilda Deighton, then Friedrich Schorr, and later, the famous Austrian teacher Marion Freschl (now head of the vocal department of the Curti Institute in Philadelphia.) Among the eighty guests assembled to hear Miss Johannsen were: The Countess of Kinnoull, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Adriani, Mr. and Mrs. James Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Hurd Comstock, Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Wurzmann, Mr. Franklin Brewer, Mrs. Marquerite Simpson, the Rev. J. Armitage and Mrs. Welborn, Dr. and Mrs. Henry Houghton, Mrs. Howard Clark, Mrs. James Johnson, Miss Helen Lane, Mrs. Mary Solari, Mr. and Mrs. John Wilgress, Mr. William Gallagher, Mrs. Elizabeth Graves, Mrs. Glenn Clairmonte, Mr. and Mrs. Eben Whittlesey, Mrs. Grace Howden, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lehmann, Miss Helene Lehmann, Miss Irene Alexander, Mrs. Madeleine Leoni, Mrs. Katherine Dennis, Mr. Hal Garrott, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kuster, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Boris Veren, Mr. Langston Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. D. MacMillan Kerr, Mrs. Marie Short, Mr. Jake Kenney, and Mr. and Mrs. R. Ellis Roberts.

Surprise Birthday Cake

Wednesday night, April 28, birthday candles glittered for Mr. Robert Stephenson who was given a birthday punch party by his wife, Mrs. Robert Stephenson. The party was not a surprise but the huge gaily decorated cake, brought out during an interval away from the punch bowl, surprised everyone. Later in the evening there was dancing enjoyed by guests: Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Flint, Mr. and Mrs. Chet Phillips, Ed Ricketts, Alice Campbell, Tal and Richie Lovejoy, Dr. Eric Berne, Lucille and her brother, Paul, Shattuck, Mrs. Stephenson's brother, Craig Shattuck, Quentin Warren, Alice Clark, Burt Marshall, Robert and Virginia Nye, Cornelia and Robert Lovejoy, and Shell and Ruskell Spiers.

Roving Discs

Victor Brune has decided that he should leave Carmel or Carmel should leave him; whichever it is, he's going to make the first move by going to San Francisco and thence leaving for Mexico. Says he needs a new kind of native around him.

Honolulu Guest

Miss Anne Kaleman was the week-end house guest of Lt. and Mrs. Joseph Drachnik on her arrival here from Honolulu. It was quite a re-union for Miss Kaleman and Mrs. Drachnik for the two had been close friends in Honolulu. Miss Haleman was one of the dinner guests at a buffet dinner party Mr. and Mrs. Drachnik gave Sunday evening. The other guests present were: Mrs. Dorothy Skelley, escorted by Lt. Warren Grafton, and Lt. Robert Moore, who escorted Miss Kaleman. Lt. Drachnik is an instructor at the Navy Line School at Del Monte, and the two other Lieutenants are students there.

Studio Search

Painter Howard E. Smith and son, Howard, Jr., were in Carmel recently, searching for the impossible, a studio. They were discouraged as who isn't, but will probably try again. In the interim they are visiting in Lindsay with Mr. Howard's sister, Mrs. John A. Logan.

Garden Club

The tour planned for the Monterey Peninsula Garden Club members and their friends on May 1 has been postponed. This tour was to precede one planned for California Garden Clubs Inc. Convention at Santa Cruz. Due to the large numbers of delegates who wished to take this tour, the gardens to be visited were necessarily large ones. It was felt that a later tour to include more gardens and smaller gardens would be of more interest to local residents. The date for the future tour will be announced in the Pine Cone.

Springtime in Mountains

Mrs. Kippy Stuart has just returned from several days spent in the Mother Lode country at the Jim Thoburn Ranch near Jamestown. Mrs. Thoburn came down to kidnap Mrs. Stuart, and Mr. Thoburn returned her to Carmel. Mrs. Stuart says that springtime in the mountains was out of this world, with thousands of fruit trees and wild flowers in bloom and the whole countryside a mass of greenery. She says that, of course ,there is no comparison with our pine trees and water, but that it is sometimes wonderful to get up in the mountains.

May Gymkhana

Planned by Richard Collins and Colonel R. E. Anderson, a gymkhana will be held this Sunday morning at 9:30 a.m. at the Pebble Beach Stables. Medieval touch will be the jousting match which will be held to decide which lady will be Queen of the May. Knights of the Peninsula will joust for the honor of decision. Lady Knights will take part in obstacle and relay races. The whole affair sounds spectacular and colorful and should be witnessed by everyone who is fond of equestrian events. The general public is invited to attend.

Among the women who will ride, will be: Dr. Jean Pomeroy, Mrs. John Keppelman, Eva Elasho, Jean Glen, Jackie Le Fleur, Laura La Monaco, and Ruth Rothrock, Mary Willis, Ann Nolan, and Virginia Pioda of Salinas. Bright lights are blinking up the Carmel Valley to let you know that the CAROUSEL is wide open, wide awake every night. Carouseling will be your favorite indoor sport on Monday nights when a buffet supper will be served at this valley hangout, and you will dine on beans cooked by Kay. You might as well give in to the wildfire rumor that the CAROUSEL has got It, Kay's beans have got It, and you'll want an immediate Monday night ticket on the bandwagon leaving for a buffet dinner 12 miles up the valley at the CAROUSEL.

Get out there and show off topped in a pure white, pure wool short coat from GAIL COUPE'S shop on San Carlos, in Carmel. There's nothing like white to spotlight you, and you might as well be spectacular if you're going to enter the fashion arena. Some of the coats flare full in back, some are straight, some are plain, some have big show-off knobs of gold buttons, three on a side, and all are the neat price of $34.95. We reiterate that fashion is a circus and you might as well play a big leading role in a white short coat, that you can toss over anything from soup to nuts, from GAIL COUPE'S shop on San Carlos. Phone 666-W.

"Look Ma I'm dancin'" says the star of that popular musical comedy and Ma could reply, "Look I'm dancin' too" for she might just have received a special Mother's Day gift of candy from the newly opened VILLAGE CORNER CANDIES. You can make your selection from 84 kinds of candy, every one up to Village Corner standards, have the candy boxed in those smart beige and brown boxes and garnished with bright paper orchids, packed in strong cartons for mailing, and addressed on stickers ready for you. Then you step 20 feet to the Post Office and off the candy goes. And we're sure Ma will be dancin'.

Manuel is fast getting the patio in shape that encloses one side of his MEXICAN RESTAURANT, and you will soon see a profusion of cactus and flowers as you patio stroll into the restaurant. And as you sit inside, the large windows that frame the patio enable you to gaze out on the pleasant colors and interesting shrubbery arrangement. All of this of course is a side dish sauce for the straight-from-Mexico cookery you can expect at MANUEL'S RESTAURANT. You will be planning on numerous encores after one visit.

Because your tasteful mother loves nice things, you will want to please her with the most tasteful gift possible; ergo, we recommend whipping into HARRIET DUNCAN'S shop on Sixth street and selecting from all the perfection displayed around you. If it's accessories she loves, the handmade mocha washable gloves at an easy price will do the trick, or the waterthin hosiery, or varied blouses in all sizes, sheer or crepe; if it's color, there are brilliant scarves and artificial flowers to add to the one right touch; if she's the tailored type, charmeen gabardine skirts and cashmere sweaters will do her justice, and if she's a rigid connoisseur in intimate, Nan Raalte's exquisite nylon underthings can't fail. HARRIET DUNCAN also offers you the personalized service of gift wrapping on your packages, and don't think mother won't appreciate every added note.

There's a new hairdresser in town that we think you should know about, Mark, at EL PASEO BEAUTY SHOP, who can give you the permanent wave you want, just the way you want it. He's full of youth and good looks and his two months in Carmel have already netted him one of the best clienteles in town. But don't let all that youth fool you, for he's skilled and expert and has dealt with enough fashion shows to know the last word in hair styling and beauty.

VELLENGA ORIGINALS for Mother's Day would be a nice slogan for your Mother's Day shopping, for Ted Decker's smart new green-draped shop on Dolores is full of exquisite linen arrangements that will please your mother, and will please you as you buy them. The right touches are all there of subtle colors, perfect applique work, and your mother can set a fine table and plan a fine room, with her new linen set. Stroll in and let Ted Decker show you all the lovely linens for they should be seen to be really wanted and loved; and remember VELLENGA ORIGINALS for Mother's Day.

Fashionable furniture is to be found at the HERITAGE ANTIQUE shop on Monte Verde and Seventh Streets where exquisitely fashioned pieces can inspire your whole room. There is an Old Wing Early American chair, with footstool to mach, re-upholstered in a documentary print of soft green and rust colors, a quaintly beautiful three tier table with snake legs and leaves that drop on each side, excellent for advantageous showing off of collected objects, a big sturdy walnut cupboard with bracket leg and chamfered corners, with two deep drawers and four shelves, and a mahogany card table with reeded legs, ornamented with reeded keys. The furniture is beautiful, functional, and comes with added guarantee of Mrs. Clarabut's fine selective taste.

If you like one fine jewel in your jewel case instead of a number of trinkets, and one fine piece of silver on your sideboard, if you prefer quality to quantity, you'll settle for the silver punch bowl on display at the HOUSE THAT JACK BUILT. Utterly simple, the fine hand of a Swedish modern designer is apparent in the the shape, and with the bowl goes a large silver ladle, or you may wish to toss a green salad and use the large salad spoon and fork set which is a part of the service. The bowl could also be used for stunning floral displays. All of the pieces may be purchased separately if you wish.

A riotous lusty book of Washington hey hey war days is to be found at the VILLAGE BOOK SHOP on Ocean Avenue. Everybody Slept Here is by Elliott Arnold, who, with his family, spent the winter of 46-47 in Carmel. This social comedy or slanted satire promises great amusement. Edith Griffin announces the near arrival of The Stilwell Papers, edited by Theodore White, and suggests that you put your orders in early for this popular book.

It can't be true, but it is, that the VILLAGE JEWELERS are agents for the finely made watches of Elgin, Gruen, Eterna, Marvin, Le Coultre and Longines. And whether it's a new watch or an old watch, you're someday going to bang it playing tennis, or take a bath with it, and then you'll be happy with the fast expert repair service that the VILLAGE JEWELERS will give you.

Invitation with no RSVP attached is open house at EDDA M. HEATH'S (PAPPEL) studio on Sunday afternoons from 1.00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. The studio is located on the corner of Thirteen and and Lincoln Streets and holds the clue as to what best to do with a Sunday afternoon. Artist and hostess is EDDA M. HEATH (PAPPEL) and you will have a lot of casual fun looking over her paintings and chatting with other people interested in are viewed leisurely and conveniently. Track down a good clue and spend Sunday hours strolling about the studio visiting.

Strictly Chinese and definitely exquisite are the miniature Ming trees made of Juniper and Manzanilla wood, planted in South American moss and set on pottery platters in the window of the FLOR DE MONTEREY. Figurines of quiet Chinese pilgrims rest under the Ming trees. Playing startling background for the trees is a wide spread of gold paper covered with a huge gray and green paper tree. The window presents the delicate aspect of a five line Oriental poem, and you will not want to walk out of the FLOR DE MONTEREY without a Ming tree for effective home decoration.

What to walk on is suggested and provided for you at BILL COYLE, FLOORS on Alvarado in Monterey and right now they have a superior supply of in-between carpets for your guest cottages, your play rooms, in-between representing not too much expense and yet involving plenty of quality. You'll find 9x12 carpets of good flowered patterns, simple geometric designs, in soft colors, green and beige chenille, and imitation oriental rugs. Caliwool rugs in six solid flavors to be cut any size are part of this department. Walk smoothly, tread lightly, on comfortable carpets from BILL COYLE FLOORS.

There's a tricky rose-wooded salon in Steve Patterson's new building where you can pull yourself together in no time at all and be known as the lankiest lass in town. There's an appeal no woman can resist and that's to be known as small waisted, lean hipped, generally sirenish in appearance, Lauren Bacallish in action. Let the GYRODUCING SALON shaft you down to a perfect proportion, then let yourself glide along the avenue and feel the champagne exhilaration of being light on your feet, lean and supple as a dancer.

Shipped straight from the romantic islands of Hawaii are the fresh pineapples and canned pineapples and juice to be found at KIP'S on Ocean Avenue. You will have tropic nostalgia as you feast on this delicious fruit. Just as lush, and closer to home, are the first cantaloupes of the year, fresh watermelons and strawberries, and Carmel Valley corn on the cob. Your kitchen will be a garden of delight when you heap it high with packages of exotic fruit from KIP'S.

At JOAN REXFORD'S you'll find spring flowers on the tables and a spring hospitality to welcome you. As for the food! Shall we tell you? Well, one day for lunch you might have creamed turkey a la king, sweet potatoes, and home made biscuits, or you might go for a cool fresh fruit salad with assorted sandwiches. You might decide to wander in at tea time and take tea along with home made wonders of cakes or pies, or big scoopings of rich ice cream; if you want a British tea there are toasted English muffins. Lunch time or tea time you'll have flowers and sweet hospitality and all that wonderful food at JOAN REXFORD'S.

Get ready for sun suit time by slimming down at the STAUFFER SYSTEM on Mission and Fifth Streets. You can do everything here, get rid of unsightly bulges, improve poor posture, and improve your circulation so that if the day is sunny you'll feel like getting out, instead of sluggishly slouching about the house. Incidentally, the STAUFFER SYSTEM has just installed the latest leg and thigh table with results that gratify every client. Don't postpone slimming down until it's too late! Don't wait for good weather to think about climbing into your bathing suit! Be slim and ready for it, and let the STAUFFER SYSTEM get you ready.

Langston Hughes Here

Last Thursday saw the arrival of author Langston Hughes who was seen in Carmel several years ago when he settled here for a short time to write his autobiography, The Big Sea. Since that time he has written little but poetry and has been engaged in lecturing about the country. Mr. Hughes is the house guest of Mr. Noel Sullivan at Hollow Hills Farm in the Carmel Valley.

Carol Feted

Has anyone ever had as many going away parties as Carol Howard? Saturday night, Marie Short and Jake Kenney, Lilli and Bob Smith, gathered at the home of Jack and Florence Geisen to give Mrs. Howard another going-away boost.

Roving Discs

The Arthur C. Hulls broke ground on their new land at Paradise Park.

Passing through the Ed Weston terminal at Wild Cat Hill were Merce Cunningham, America's leading male dancer, and John Cage, modern pianist who received so much publicity in Time magazine. Driving with them was writer Edys Merrill. Mr. Cunningham, who used to dance with Martha Graham and has since been touring about on his own, and Mr. Cage may soon put on a recital in Carmel.

Brett Weston has left for the East where he is conferring with publishers about the two photographic books he completed on his Guggenheim fellowship. Brett drove back in a wonderful machine he has which looks like an armored truck for carrying money around, but is really a very functional affair outfitted with photographic and sleeping equipment.

Roving Discs

Jack and Florence Geisen will be on dock when Carol Howard leaves for that Africo-Oriental tour on April 29. They will all take in the bit of froth and delight put on by the Lunts and deliciously titled O Mistress Mine.

Dick Norris spent Thursday night in town from his round the world trip, looked his shop over, said hello to a few friends, and left at four in the morning for another round the world trip.

Striking yellow and red were the circus trains lined up along the Monterey terminals. No doubt not one Peninsula kid missed the exciting and turbulent contests of the circus trains.

Louis and Lynn Conlan have now opened a curio shop in Honolulu. Those two really work fast.

Ivar Sievertsen vacationing down here from pounding his way to deadlines in the advertising business in San Jose. Vail looks vacationish too, in a short crisp hair cut. Toby Street and Lois Dunham, the Richard Wrights, and the Harry Dixons gathered at Mabuhai Thursday night to help the Sievertsens to more and better vacationing.

Blonde popular M. J. Hale seen lounging about Carmel this week end. Came down from San Francisco with her mother Mrs. William H. Hale and two dogs, George and Roger. She romped about her old haunts, mostly accompanied by Sel McDaniels, and expects to be down again in a few weeks.

"Jackie" Tavo Goodman, who used to have dance studios here, and who used to go in for raising pure bred Arabian horses, has given everything up for Carmel home roosting. He was seen valley dining recently with Peg Carroll, Beth Porter, and Hal Hogan. Beth and Peg plan to sell their valley ranch and leave by freighter for Mexico; they will invade by way of Acapulco. Their ranch was the scene recently of a fine farewell party for Carol Howard.

Switch Arrangement

Marie Short and Gretchen Gray have settled on a switch arrangement in which Mrs. Gray's San Francisco apartment on Telegraph Hill will be at the disposal of Mrs. Short, and vice versa; the Short home in Carmel will give Mrs. Gray a landing place. The switch will take place this week end and will probably be used many times in the future, enabling the two households to take equal advantage of sun and water, or pavement and opera.

Report On Bogota Uprising

While taking a six month's tour of South America, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Brown of Carmel were able to observe an interesting bit of history in the making in Bogota, Colombia, where a revolution occured quite recently.

Mrs. P. M. Bigelow was kind enough to lend us a letter from the couple which gives some of the details of the uprising which occured when they were there.

Fish Affair

A gay get-together was held up at Sam Colburn's last Friday night when a group of people gathered to enjoy an enormous fish dinner cooked by that terrific chef, Pete Boroni. Abalone and shrimp were the main stars of the evening, and the cast who dove in were Virginia and Barbara Blair, young fisherman Ed Muniz, George Aucourt, Nancy DeWitt, Bob and Lili Smith, Marie Short, Jake Kenney, and Virginia Clark. As usual at the Colburn studio, there was dancing after dinner to the hot rhumba records Mr. Colburn collects.

John Burr Is Back

Sweeping into the Pine Cone office the other day in a swank Homburg hat was John Burr, fresh from New York, where he has been an expatriate for several years. Mr. Burr was managing the Penthouse Club in New York, but feels that his true destiny is to be one of Carmel's citizens. Mary Burr, who danced recently in San Jose, is now at the Metropolitan with the Ballet Theater, and when the season is over, in about six more weeks, will come to Carmel and take up her citizenship.

April Child

Wednesday, April 21, 7:18 a.m. brought Cecelia Jeanne Gookin safely to harbour at the Peninsula Community Hospital. Cecelia Jeanne is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kookin, and has a baby brother, John Patrick, who was born in exactly the same place a year and a half ago. Mr. Gookin, a radio engineer, is probably dashing about making a thousand breathless recordings of all baby Cecelia's first cries.

Mrs. Gookin is planning on leaving in three weeks time with both her children for a visit with her mother, Mrs. Helen Freeman in Douglas, Arizona.

Another Homecomer

After an absence of several years, Liesel Wurzmann has returned to make Carmel her permanent home. She has been busy for several weeks renovating and redecorating her home, Pine Gates, on upper San Carlos street, and is again ready and able to welcome all her old friends.

GONE ARE THE DAYS

YES, gone are the days of the water carrier, the long-handled pump and the old oaken bucket that hung in the well. At least they are gone for some 85,000,000 Americans who today simply "turn on the water" when they want a drink. In some of the remote rural sections of our own land, of course, and in many countries of the Old World, water procurement by primitive means is still the fashion.

The business of public water supply has developed enormously in the past fifty years and today it is one of the largest, and certainly one of the most important industries in America. Without fanfare or singing commercials it goes quietly about the work of gathering, storing and distributing safe water . . . delivering it where needed, in any quantities desired, at a cost of less than ten cents a ton.

Fashion Show

In spite of the rain, the usual good crowd turned out for the fashion presentations of the Lanz shop and the Silver Thimble. Favorite models Mrs. Cynthia Taylor, Mrs. Margo Bauer, Mrs. Kay Drachnik, and Mrs. Edith Clancey showed the dresses and robes.

A Lanz speciality was the old fashioned heart print manufactured especially for Lanz, in four pieces of full skirt, midriff top, black quilted jacket lined with the print, and shoes to match. Quilted skirts in pastel colors with fresh white blouses, and a dress of blue and white ticking with a circle of red fringe about the waist and skirt and red buttons running down the back, were other Lanz favorites. A three piece bathing ensemble in Hansel and Gretel print of blue and white (to be ordered in other colors) with hooded bathing jacket drew lots of attention. Evening gowns shown were a green striped chambray with low shoulders, gold and imitation jewelry from the House that Jack Built, and gold sandals from Lanz; and a stunning combination of organdy blouse made in Switzerland worn with a long navy blue faille skirt. Under the blouse was a delicious cotton camisole, and Mrs. Bauer started a round of applause when she took off the blouse and modeled the camisole.

Hit of the Silver Thimble collection was an unusual brunch coat, long and flounced, with watermelon and grey stripes, and worn with a full taffeta petticoat to give it a starched standout appearance. Robe and gown ensembles were shown, among them a beautiful blue satin gown worn under the most delicate pale blue chiffon, appliqued with pink satin, and a dramatic virginal affair of white satin gown with full sweeping white satin robe. Striped and polka dot morning robes were also shown, and lastex bathing suits, one piece, two piece, with an especially striking one of bright red with which the model carried a white cotton robe.

Mark of El Paseo Beauty Studio accomplished the elegant up-sweep of Mrs. Bauer's hair, and Jamil of El Paseo worked out the simple shoulder sweep for Mrs. Drachnik. Tommy of La Bonita arranged the queenly coiffure worn by Mrs. Clancey. Mrs. Taylor wore her good looking blonde hair as usual, shoulder length, inverted page boy.

Seated at Mrs. Helene Vye's table for the luncheon were Mrs. Jack Beldon, Mrs. M. Dowdakin, and Mrs. Lee Harbick, Entertained by Mrs. Frances Tilton were Mrs. Roy Cope, Mrs. Maxine Ferguson, and Miss Natalie Taylor.

NOTICE INVITING SEALED PROPOSALS

Pursuant to resolution of the Sanitary Board of the Carmel Sanitary District directing this notice, said Sanitary Board hereby invites sealed proposals or bids for the following work to be done and improvements to be made in said District, to-wit:

That, Pescadero Road from the intersection thereof with the southerly extension of the eastern line of Lot 16 of Block 165 as delineated in the Map of "First Addition to Carmel Woods," more particularly described hereinafter, southerly, westerly and southerly to a point therein ten feet southerly from the intersection thereof with the northwesterly extension of the dividing line between Lots 3 and 5 of Block 151 as delineated on the Map of "Carmel Woods," more particularly described hereinafter; the right of way granted for sewer purposes from a point in the western line of Pescadero Road at right angles to said road from the western end of the dividing line between lots 26 and 27 of Block 151 as the same is delineated on said Map of "First Addition to Carmel Woods," and running thence westerly one hundred thirty-three (133) feet; thence southwesterly to the most northerly corner of Block 150 as the same is delineated on said Map of "Carmel Woods," thence southerly adjacent to and westerly from the western boundary of said Block 150 to the northwestern line of Lot 14, thence southerly to and along an existing lane to a point on the southeastern line of said Lot 14 which line is the northern terminus of Monte Verde Street, thence twenty-five (25) feet more or less to the existing manhole in the intersection of Monte Verde Street and Second Avenue; Dolores Street from the existing manhole in the Vista Avenue northerly and northeasterly to the intersection thereof with Castro Lane; Castro Lane from the intersection thereof with Dolores Street northerly seven hundred fifty (750) feet; the Lane E lying between the aforementioned Blocks 151 and 165 for its entire length between Dolores Street and Pescadero Road; Alta Avenue from the center line of Dolores Street easterly a distance of three hundred (300) feet; Serra Avenue from the eastern end of the existing sewer therein between Guadalupe Street and Cabrillo Street easterly to a point twenty (20) feet easterly from the southerly extension of the western line of Lot 21 of Block 160 as the same is delineated on said map of "First Addition to Carmel Woods."

(a) Constructing therein six inch diameter vitrified clay pipe sewers;

(b) Constructing therein brick and concrete manholes with cast iron frames and covers;

(c) Constructing therein vitrified clay pipes flushing inlets with cast iron frames and covers;

(d) Constructing therein vitrified Tee branches and four inch diameter vitrified pipe laterals from all of said sewers which are constructed in streets to the property lines fronting on all lots improved with buildings designed or used for human habitation.

(e) Constructing Tee branches from said sewer so constructed in said rights of way or utility easements opposite all lots improved with buildings designed or used for human habitation.

All said work is to be done at the places and in the particular locations, of the forms, sizes and dimensions and materials, and to the lines and grades, and at the elevations, as shown and delineated upon the plans, profiles and specifications made therefor and adopted by the Sanitary Board of said District on January 26th, 1948, and which are on file in the office of the Secretary of said District, and are more particularly described in Resolution of Intention No. 253 of said Sanitary Board, adopted March 8, 1948, which resolution of intention is hereby expressly referred to for a description of the work and improvements and the assessment district upon which the same is to be charged, and for further particulars.

Notice is hereby given that serial bonds will be issued to represent assessments of $25.00 or over, for the cost of said work and improvements, and to extend over a period of four (4) years from the second day of January next succeeding the next October fifteenth following their date, which bonds shall bear interest at the rate of six percent (6%) per annum, and shall be issued and the principal and interest paid thereon all according to the provisions of Part 5 of the Improvement Act of 1911.

All proposals or bids shall be accompanied by a check payable to the Carmel Sanitary District, certified by a responsible bank for an amount which shall not be less than ten percent of the aggregate of the proposal, or by a bond for the said amount and so payable, signed by the bidder and two sureties, who shall justify before an officer competent to administer an oath, in double the said amount, and over and above all statutory exemptions.

Said sealed proposals or bids shall be delivered to the Secretary of said Sanitary Board on or before 7:30 o'clock P. M. of the 10th day of May, 1948, said time being not less than ten days from the time of the first publication and posting of this notice. Bids will be opened on said day and hour.

line up with Joe Nicholson behind the plate and Bob Bell, Jay Huffman, and Vansell dividing the hurling chores. Nicholson is the peer of all backstops in this area and gives a solid anchor to the infield. Bell, Huffman, and Vansell have been throwing them over in good style in practice sessions and appear ready for actual competition. Jack Giles, the silent one, will handle the initial hassock this season. Jack has the speed of a gazelle on the bases and has the knack of digging the bad throws out of the dirt. Second base will be manned by Jim Kelsey who has been hitting and fielding in midseason form during the workouts. Jim has improved tremendously around the keystone sack and has enough experience to be a seasoned performer. The answer to the loss of Harold Studevant has appeared in the person of Bud Steenerson. Bud has shown a lot of ability around the hot corner and his speed on the bases will be appreciated by Pine Cone fans. Gene Ricketts and Lew Saunders have been taking care of the shortstop chores with both showing enough ability to handle this difficult spot.

Saunders has been swinging a big bat in practice sessions and threatens to lose a few over the right field wall this season. A quartet of good flychasers assure the local nine of sound coverage in the outfield. A new performer, Richey Walters, give the centerfield spot a wealth of speed and a strong throwing arm. Softball fans will enjoy watching Walters haul down the difficult chances in the outer gardens. Rip Belvail, Gene Ricketts, Bob Bell, and Jay Huffman are outfielders who performed capably last year and are back for another year of competition.

A schedule is being drawn up which will bring the best softball talent in Northern California to Carmel. Some of the good teams which softball fans will have a chance to see are: San Francisco Ayoobs, Bennies Market(Los Gatos), Castroville Dons, Hollister Legion, Victory Market (Gilroy), Sunnyvale All-Stars, Lowes Realty (Palo Alto), and many others.

SCOUTING The SHOPS

Lords of an immaculate kitchen at SADE'S are Ronnie Alvarado and his assistant, Albert Potencion, who are aware of all the magician's tricks of fine cookery. Ronnie has been with SADE'S for four years, so he is definitely tried and tested as an integral part of the famous atmosphere as well as being master of the kitchen. Albert has been steaming steadily along for quite awhile and is now a fixture, too. You can dine with confidence at SADE'S, for your food is prepared with skillful know-how hands.

Twenty years experience and a well equipped shop provide Mr. Gookin at the CARMEL RADIO & SOUND SERVICE with all the necessities for giving you perfect repair service on your home and automobile radios. And those phonographs sometimes get off the track and need some expert handling. Mr. Gookin not only knows about such matters but seems to enjoy working with them, so let him have the pleasure of putting in shape and good form those needy radios and phonographs.

Straight from the forest are the pine elves fashioned by BETTY MOORE, showing their fey faces in the Ocean window of the Corner Cupboard. Made of purple, green and pink colored clay, the little elves wear mad caps, fondle sea urchins, disport themselves in cups of dried sea weed. Also fey and from sea depths are the bright-eyed sea animals worked of shells and feathers. You must go have a look at these delightful fantasies created by BETTY MOORE.

A galaxy of Carmel's Who's Who has been descending on GALLATIN'S down at Bixby Creek on the Big Sur highway regularly at middle of the week time. Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday seem to be the nights you'll catch all your friends dining away under the watchful guidance of Lou and Gal Powers. Week ends are made in heaven for the tourists, so make your middle of the week reservations and wave hello to everyone you know at GALLATIN'S.

"Evil shall slay the wicked: and they that hate the righteous shall be desolate. The Lord redeemeth the soul of his servants: and none of them that trust in him shall be desolate" (Psalms 34:21, 22). This is the Golden Text for the Christian Science Lesson-Sermon for Sunday, May 2, on the subject "Everlasting Punishment."

The following citations are taken from the sermon:

II Peter: "Grace and peace be multiplied unto you through the knowledge of God, and of Jesus our Lord" (1:2).

"Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Working and praying with true motives, your Father will open the way. 'Who did hinder you, that ye should not obey the truth?'" (p. 326).

Harknesses Return

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Harkness, who have been giving classes in speech and Eurythmy at the Sunset School for the last two weeks, returned to Ojai on Thursday. Mr. Harkness is the director of the High Valley Theatre and Dramatic School there. Mrs. Harkness (Mechthild Johannsen) has charge of the Eurythmy classes at the school and the music of the theatre.

The classes in Speech and Eurythmy were well attended. The pupils (there were classes for children in the afternoon and adults in the evening) found them so helpful, so inspiring, "such a revelation of the possibilities of speech and movement," as one member said, that they expressed the hope that Mr. and Mrs. Harkness will return before long.

Mr. Harkness was born in Australia. He studied with Michael Chekov at Dartington Hall, in Devonshire, England, and was his assistant director at the Dramatic School at Ridgewood, Connecticut. (Michael Chekov is the nephew of the famous Russian dramatist, and was one of the best of Russia's actors and director of the Moscow Art Theatre).

Mrs. Harkness was born in Switzerland and came to America as a child. She has studied singing under famous teachers in New York and Philadelphia. She says she cannot remember when she began to study Eurythmy, as she was only two years old.

Party For Senior Players

Mrs. Fred Warren gave a party at her home on Mission and Fourth Streets last Friday night for members of the senior cast and their friends. The party was a barbecue with weenies and barbecue sauce, Spanish beans, barbecued rabbit, salad, cake, jello dessert and hot chocolate. Guests who enjoyed all this deliciousness as concocted by Mrs. Warren were: Eleanor Bannerman, Sunny Cook, Carol Hildebrand, Judy Campbell, Beverley Dowgaillo, Betty Plaxton, Colleen Dolan, Edith Barbie, Ginger Klein, Wettengel, Basil Allaire, Paul Warner, Mike Monahan, Wyn Hutchings, Shirley Petty, Roberta Roberts, Rose Marie Krupocki, Betty Goulart, Joy Westcott, and Wanda Warren.

Valley Fashion Show

An interesting fashion show will take place, Friday, May 7, when Carmel valley dwellers will participate as models in the fashion show at the Carousel. They will display clothes from the Gail Coupe shop in Carmel and will no doubt amuse themselves and their friends as they parade about in modeling stance. Mrs. Paul Porter, Mrs. Roe Lindgren, Mrs. Peggy Wagner, Mrs. Larry Sweeney, Mrs. Fally Ferch, Mrs. Frank B. Porter, Mrs. Robert Stanton, and Mrs. Richard Osborne will be the valley women who will turn models next Friday.

Moved To Annex

Stella Herron is improving so rapidly since her operation on April 20 that she was transferred from the hospital to the Annex yesterday. Being hospitalized has its pleasant moments, Mrs. Herron says, when you have thoughtful friends who are gracious and generous with their visits and gifts of flowers.

BRUNO ADRIANI SPEAKER

Bruno Adriani will discuss the sources and currents of modern French poetry before Mrs. Glenn Clairmonte's current literature group at 7:30 next Tuesday evening, May 4, in Room 11 of Sunset School. Mr. Adriani, who has been making his home in Carmel for several years, was formerly minister of arts and letters in Berlin, and two of his great enthusiasms are the poems of Baudelaire and the prose of Proust.

Visitors are always welcome to attend these Tuesday evening sessions.

NEW BOOKS...

CIVILIZATION ON TRIAL
by Arnold J. Toynbee
In this volume the world-famous historian deals with many of the broad issues the world faces today. He brings his clear-sighted, objective point of view to an informal discussion of such subjects as the meaning of the present point on the long view of history, the national psychology of Russia, the role of the Church in history, the problems of world unity, and the immediate future of international relations 3.50

MALABAR FARM
by Louies Bromfield, author of Pleasant Valley, The Rains Came, etc.
Here is the story of day-by-day labor and planning at Malabar, told by a man who makes live, exciting drama out of the seeding of a field, the blooming of a bare, weedy hill, the development of a fine strain of cattle, the creating of a populous farm pond from a useless marsh. 3.75

THE ART OF ITALIAN COOKING
by Maria Lo Pinto
More than two hundred recipes clearly and informatively written, the individual recipes are arranged in sections, in the sequence of a complete menu, to make it easy to prepare an entire meal in the best Italian manner. The separate section include herbs and cheeses, soups, spaghetti and savory sauces, novel sea-food combinations, meats, vegetables and salads, game and fowl. 2.75

FOLK SONG U.S.A.
The 111 Best American Ballads by John A. and Alan Lomax
A great collection of songs and ballads, this book emerges as the story of the people building the country—their work, laughter, loves, troubles, tragedies, favorite jokes, and sentiment. It is a broadbeamed book, passionate, full of the story of people bound for the promised land looking for a home, making a free country out of a raw wilderness, and singing along the way. 5.00
